For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, AND CONSUMPTION.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one, but many nations must have extraordinary virtues. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

FOR PRESIDENT,
JAMES A. GARFIELD,
Of Ohio.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
CHESTER A. ARTHUR,
Of New York.

GARFIELD'S LETTER.

In his letter of acceptance, General Garfield sounds the keynote of the Republican campaign. He names as the great national issues upon which the party must rest its cause before the people the enforcement of the election laws in the South, in order that there shall be no intimidation of voters; the restriction of Chinese immigration, so that servile labor may no longer flow in unchecked to degrade the dignity of the free workman; the support of the financial policy which has led to the resumption of specie payments and the safety of the national credit abroad; the separation of Church and State in all matters that pertain to taxation for educational purposes, the development of our internal resources by judicious improvements of the great natural channels of trade; the protection of home industry by a wise system of tariff laws, and the improvement of the diplomatic service by the selection of the ablest men for this work. The letter is perfectly satisfactory, and upon no question more so than the Chinese issue, showing that his feelings upon that question have always been in sympathy with the views of the Pacific Coast.

The railroad to Leadville has been completed.

The Post says that Elko has a permanent population of about 850 white people.

Ex-Senator Stewart is about to rebuild his house in Washington. The work is to be superintended by his wife.

Two more sailors of the bark Excelsior at the New Orleans quarantine station have been taken sick. They probably have the yellow fever.

Robert Hanna, ex-Confederate, has filed a petition at Washington for a pension on account of a wound received during the war in 1864.

Secretary Schurz having accepted the invitation of the Republican State Central Committee of Indiana, to take an active part in the canvass in that State, will make his first speech there next week.

Colonel Neil, who has been appointed Governor of Idaho by the President, was Mr. Hayes' private secretary when he was Governor of Ohio, and for the past two years has been Register of the Land Office in Salt Lake. The appointment is regarded as an excellent one.

A letter received at Salt Lake from Green River says: Seventy-five prospectors from Leadville have located a camp on the headwaters of Brush creek, Uintah mountains, 110 miles east of Salt Lake. They have discovered a body of carbonate ore 3,000 feet in length, assaying from $300 to $700 in silver, and have located for eight miles. This new camp is in Utah, and it has been known that prospectors were in that section of the Territory, but the story of the big find is almost incredible.

Hot Weather and Sunstrokes.

The heated term continues in the East. The thermometer ranged from 82 to 87 degrees in the shade Tuesday in New York. The mortality among children has greatly increased. There were ten sunstrokes Tuesday, two fatal. There were 126 deaths during 24 hours, including 79 under five years of age.

The thermometer marked 94 degrees in Chicago Tuesday afternoon. Several cases of sunstroke were reported.

In Baltimore, Tuesday afternoon, the thermometer stood at 99 degrees. At 9 o'clock Tuesday night in marked 88. There were several fatal sunstrokes.

In Washington the thermometer stood at 97. The Department employees were dismissed an hour earlier than usual on account of the heat.

At Cincinnati the thermometer marked 96. There were seven cases of sunstroke, three fatal.

There were over thirty cases of sunstroke yesterday in Chicago, according to reports received Tuesday night and yesterday morning. Thirteen of them were fatal. It was much cooler yesterday.

MENTOR, Ohio, July 12.

General Garfield has forwarded to Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, the following letter of acceptance of the nomination tendered him by the Republican National Convention:

MENTOR, Ohio, July 10, 1880.—
Dear Sir: On the evening of the 8th of June last, I had the honor to receive from you, in the presence of a committee, of which you were chairman, the official announcement that the Republican National Convention at Chicago, had that day nominated me as their candidate for President of the United States. I accept the nomination with gratitude for the confidence it implies, and with a deep sense of the responsibilities it imposes. I cordially endorse the principles set forth in the platform adopted by the Convention on nearly all the subjects on which it treats. My opinions are on record among the published proceedings of Congress. I venture, however, to make special mention of some of the principal topics which are likely to become a subject of discussion. Without reviewing the controversies which have been settled during the last twenty years, and with no purpose or wish to revive the passions of the late war, it should be said that while the Republicans fully recognize, and will defend all the rights retained by the people, and all the rights reserved to the States, they reject the pernicious

DOCTRINE OF STATE SUPREMACY,

which so long crippled the functions of the national government, and at one time brought the Union very near to destruction. They insist that the United States is a nation, with ample powers of self-protection, that its Constitution, and the laws made in accordance thereof, are the supreme laws of the land; that the rights of the nation to determine the method by which its Legislature shall be created, cannot be surrendered without the abdication of one of the fundamental powers of the Government; that the national laws relating to the election of Representatives in Congress shall neither be violated nor evaded; that every elector shall be permitted freely and without intimidation to cast his lawful vote at such elections, and have it honestly counted; and that the potency of his vote shall not be destroyed by the fraudulent vote of any other person. The best thoughts and energies of our people should be directed to those great questions of national well-being in which we all have a common interest. Such efforts will soonest restore to perfect peace those who were lately in arms against each other, for justice and good will outlast passion. But it is certain that cannot be completely healed, and the spirit of brotherhood cannot pervade the whole country until every citizen, rich or poor, white and black, is secure in the free and equal enjoyment of every civil and political right guaranteed by the Constitution and the laws. Wherever the enjoyment of these rights is not assured, discontent will prevail, immigration will cease, and the social and industrial forces will continue to be disturbed by the migration of laborers, and the consequent diminution of prosperity. The National Government should exercise all its constitutional authority to put an end to those evils, for all the people and all the States are members of one body, and no member can suffer without injury to all. The most serious evils which now afflict the South arise from the fact that there is not such freedom and toleration of political opinion and action that the minority party can exercise an effective and wholesome restraint upon the party in power. Without such restraint, party rule becomes tyrannical and corrupt. The prosperity which is made possible in the South by its great advantages of soil and climate, will never be realized until every voter can freely and safely support any party he pleases. Next in importance to freedom and justice is without which neither freedom nor justice can be permanently maintained. Its interests are entrusted to the States, and to the voluntary action of the people. Whatever help the nation can justly afford should be generously given to aid the States in supporting schools; but it would be unjust to our people and dangerous to our institutions to apply any portion of the revenues of the nation or of the States to the support of sectarian schools. The separation of the Church and the State, in everything relating to taxation, should be absolute. On the subject of my views have been so frequently and fully expressed that little is needed in the way of additional statement. The public debt is now so well secured, and the annual rate of interest has been so reduced by refunding, that a rigid economy in expenditures and the faithful application of our surplus revenues to the payment of the principal, the debt will gradually, but certainly free the people from its burdens, and close with honor the financial chapter of the war. At the same time the Government can provide for all its ordinary expenditures, and discharge its sacred obligations to the soldiers of the Union, and to the widows and orphans of those who fell in its defense. The

THE WOUNDS OF THE WAR

POPULAR EDUCATION,

NATIONAL FINANCES,

RESUMPTION OF SPECIE PAYMENT,

which the Republican party so courageously and successfully accomplished, has removed from the field of controversy many questions that long and seriously disturbed the credit of the Government and the business of the country. Our paper currency is now as national as the flag, and resumption has not only made it everywhere equal to coin, but has brought into use our store of gold and silver. The circulating medium is more abundant than ever before, and we need only to maintain the equality of all our dollars to insure to labor and capital a measure of value from the use of which no one can suffer loss. The great prosperity which the country is now enjoying should not be endangered by any violent changes or doubtful financial experiments. In reference to a policy should be pursued which will bring revenue to the treasury; will enable the labor and capital employed in our great industries to compete fairly in our own markets with the labor and capital of foreign produce. We legislate for the people of the United States—not for the whole world—and it is our glory that the American laborer is more intelligent and better paid than his foreign competitor. Our country cannot be independent unless its people, with their abundant natural resources, possess the requisite skill at any time to clothe, arm and equip themselves for war, and in time of peace to produce all the necessary implements of labor. It was the manifest intention of the founders of our Government to provide for the common defense, not by standing armies alone, but by raising among the people a greater army of artisans whose intelligence and skill so powerfully contribute to the safety and glory of the Nation. Fortunate they for the interests of commerce that there is no longer any formidable opposition to appropriations for the

OUR CUSTOMS LAWS,

IMPROVEMENT OF OUR HARBORS

and the great navigable rivers; provided that the expenditures for that purpose are strictly limited to works of natural importance. The Mississippi river, with its great tributaries, is of such vital importance to so many millions of people that the safety of its navigation requires exceptional consideration. In order to secure to the Nation the control of all its waters President Jefferson negotiated the purchase of a vast territory extending from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific Ocean. The wisdom of Congress should be invoked to devise some plan by which that great river shall cease to be a terror to those who dwell upon its banks and by which its shipping may safely carry the industrial product of 25,000,000 of people. The interests of agriculture, which is the basis of all material prosperity, and in which seven-twelfths of our population are engaged, as well as the interests of manufactures and commerce, demand that facilities for cheap transportation shall be increased by the use of all our great water courses.

HOSPITALITY TO IMMIGRANTS.

The material interests of this country, the traditions of its settlements and the sentiments of our people, have led the Government to offer the widest hospitality to emigrants who seek our shores for new and happier homes, willing to share the burdens as well as the benefits of our society, and intending that their posterity shall become an undistinguishable part of our population.

RESTRICTING CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

The recent movement of the Chinese to our Pacific Coast partakes but little of the qualities of such immigration either in its purposes or results. It is too much like an importation to be welcomed without restriction; too much like an invasion to be looked upon without solicitude. We cannot consent to allow any form of servile labor to be introduced among us under the name of immigration. Recognizing the gravity of this subject the present administration, supported by Congress, has sent to China a Commission of distinguished citizens for the purpose of such a modification of the existing treaty as will prevent evils likely to arise in the future from the present situation. It is confidently believed that these diplomatic negotiations will be successful, without the loss of commercial intercourse between the two nations, which promises a great increase of reciprocal trade and the enlargements of our markets. Should these negotiations fail, it will be the duty of Congress to mitigate the evils already felt and prevent their increase by such restrictions as, without violence or injustice, will place upon a sure foundation the peace of our communities and the freedom and dignity of labor.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

The appointment of citizens to the various executive and judicial offices of the Government is, perhaps, the most difficult of all the duties which the constitution has imposed upon the Executive. The Constitution wisely demands that Congress shall co-operate with the Executive Department in placing the civil service on a better basis. Experience has proved that with our frequent changes of Administration no system of reform can be made effective and permanent without the aid of legislation. Appointments to the military and naval service are so regulated by law as to leave but little ground for complaint. It may not be wise to make similar regulations by law for the civil service, but without invading the authority or necessary discretion of the Executive, Congress should devise a method that will determine the tenure of office and reduce the uncertainty which makes that service so uncertain and unsatisfactory. Without depriving any officer of his rights as a citizen, the Government should require him to discharge all of his official duties with intelligence, efficiency and faithfulness.

EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

To select wisely from our own vast population those who are best suited for the many offices to be filled, requires an acquaintance far beyond the range of any one man. The Executive should therefore seek and receive the information and assistance of those whose knowledge of the communities in which the duties are to be performed best qualifies them to aid him in making the wisest choice. These are deliberate convictions, resulting from a careful study of the spirit of our institutions, the events of our history and the best impulses of our people. In my judgment these impulses should control the legislation and administration of the Government. In any event they will guide my conduct until experience points a better way. If elected, it will be my purpose to enforce strict obedience to the Constitution and laws, and promote, as best I may, the interests and honor of the whole country. Relying upon the wisdom of Congress, the intelligence and patriotism of the people and the favor of God, with great respect, I am very truly yours, J. A. GARFIELD.

It is reported that a family in an Eastern State was poisoned by eating lettuce which was grown in the vicinity of a potato patch that had been treated to a dressing of Paris green. This deadly poison is now freely used everywhere, and it behooves those who make use of it to use also the greatest precautions.

In Luck.

The speed programme of the California State Fair has been published. During the week there will be sixteen races, two of which will be running, one pacing and thirteen trotting. The reason why there are to be no more running races is that the Pacific Blood Horse Association were dissatisfied with the purses offered. The Reno Fair will be in better luck, and the best running horses on the coast will be here. The stables of Winters, Baldwin and Pritchard, have already made application for stalls, and will be here in training two weeks before our Fair commences.

Board of Pardons.

Filippo Pirini, sent from Eureka September 9, 1878, for a term five years for manslaughter, was pardoned, it being shown that he acted in self defense. The applications of James Gibbons, Michael Carrigan, Henry Hickman and W. C. Tracy have been denied. The applications of John Stout, James Rice and Jackson Morgan have been passed.

Yesterday was the 81st anniversary of the razing of the Bastille by the French populace. As this notorious prison had been used almost entirely to confine all who offended the crown, its demolition was regarded as a great victory for the people, and is so celebrated. The day has been aptly dubbed "the French 4th of July."

Bishop Whitaker is advertising the School for Girls in all the State papers, in those of Northern California, and everywhere where it is calculated to do his school good. We are sure a largely increased patronage will result from this step.

Mr. G. F. Clough, one of Boston's most prominent citizens, is on a visit to Capt. A. D. Griffin, and will make an inspection of the mining properties in which that gentleman is interested.

J. L. McFarlin's blacksmith and wagon shop is about the liveliest place in town. He seems to have plenty of work for his force of men.

Assessor Everett reports his work as progressing finely. All the statements will be completed by the last of the month, but money comes in very slow.

PROGRESS OF THE RAILROAD.

RENO, July 6, 1880.

EDITOR ADVOCATE:—It is never too late to redeem a promise especially associated with a good cause, and knowing that your community are deeply interested in the success of the Nevada and Oregon Railroad, I give you a few items that may be interesting:

Our surveying parties are pushing their part of the work along as fast as possible to the north from this point. They are now passing through Long Valley, having scaled the summits of the "everlasting hills" that lie to the north of Reno with a grade that falls below 100 feet to the mile, thus securing an easy outlet for the iron horse, and, as this was the greatest obstacle to overcome, we are happy to say that we have been disappointed in a very pleasant direction.

The party can make about eight miles per day the balance of the way, so that they will reach Susanville in about seven or eight days more. It has not been determined on which side of Honey Lake the route will go, and will not be until we have surveyed on both sides of the lake.

We are having every encouragement from the people beyond the Oregon State line, as they can plainly see the advantages the road will be to that secluded country, as it will bring them nearer to market and civilization. Railroads are the great equalizers of the country, as they annihilate space and make common communities out of States that lie many miles apart. The iron horse, like the lightning flashes of electricity that bear the utterances of other nations to our doors, bears the commodities of other countries to our markets, and we mingle in the success of their industries, while exchanging our own in payment. Thus the very "Arcana" of nature is unloaded at our doors by the rails of iron that unite the extremes of all lands. Then it is not to be wondered at that the great Des Chutes valleys, with their industries and produce, are looking for a connecting link beyond the "visual line that girds them round," for it will bring the great centers of trade and consumption near their very doors, and the pulsations of the mighty body of Commerce will throb within their midst as though the great sea-board trade was but a few miles away; besides, their country will soon be mapped out upon the great active world that lives and moves with a being of constant improvement, and they will be able to talk and act with the people of the Atlantic slope as though the Rocky Mountains were but an imaginary line drawn on the map to designate a dividing territory. And whatever of benefits they may derive, the same may be said of all the territory to the line of the road; and you, poor little village will be benefited in like proportion with other portions of the country—and I know of no country that would be benefited to a greater extent than Lassen and Modoc counties. Their resources are larger, and the products of their soil immense, and with railroad facilities connecting you with the great trans-continental line, you will at once become our near neighbors.

To build a railroad requires a large amount of perseverance and capital, coupled with experience, all of which we have associated with this enterprise; and while some may be ready to ask the question "Will it be built?" I will say that all enterprises must have a beginning before there can be a completion—and now, that we have made the beginning, the completion is beyond doubt. Inside of one year the road will be far beyond Susanville stretching its iron fingers among the valleys of southern Oregon, to bear their produce to market. More anon.

Yours, JOHN T. DAVIS.

School for Girls.

The State Line Herald says that the fourth year of Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls will begin on the 26th of next month. The general management will be, as heretofore, under the direction of Bishop Whitaker. This institution is not only a good school, but also a happy home for all its members. Careful attention is given to moral, mental and physical training. Calisthenic exercises and recreation in the open air form an essential part of the daily discipline. In all departments of the school, thoroughness is considered as of greater importance than the number or extent of studies pursued. With its present organization it is but simple justice to the school to say that the advantages which it offers for obtaining a thorough education in every department of study, and for the formation of a true womanly character are not surpassed by any school west of the Rocky Mountains. The location of this school at Reno, near the Truckee river, at the junction of the Virginia and Truckee railway and the Central Pacific Railroad, is peculiarly favorable for all purposes of a school.

We are pleased to learn that Miss Jessie Shirley the young Artist of Chicago, who has been delighting the people of Oakland, Petaluma, Santa Rosa and many other towns in California, with her wonderful elocutionary powers, will visit Reno next week. We have no doubt our citizens will turn out in mass to hear this little prodigy from over the mountains.

Miss Josie Shirley of Chicago, has been before the Santa Rosa public on five different occasions, and each time acquitted her self with great credit. She is a natural elocutionist, has wonderful memory, and perfect control of her voice, her gestures are easy, graceful and natural. In facial gestures wonderful, so changing her face as to be unrecognizable by her most intimate friends, she is the star reader.—[S. F. Evangelist.]

Miss Shirley is a remarkable elocutionist.—[San Jose Mercury.]

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.
THE FOLLOWING IS THE PLATFORM
of the National Republican Party adopted by the Chicago Convention:
Republican rule has restored upon a solid basis payment in coin for all the national obligations, and has given us a currency absolutely sound and equal in every respect to our extended country. It has lifted the credit of the nation from the point where six per cent.
bonds sold at 86, to that where four per cent.
bonds are eagerly sought at a premium. Under its administration railways have been extended 31,000 miles in 1880 to more than 32,000 miles in 1879. Our foreign trade has increased from $700,000,000 to $1,150,000,000 in the same time, and our exports, which were $200,000,000 less than our imports in 1879. Without resorting to loans, it has, since the war closed, defrayed the ordinary expenses of Government, besides the acquiring interest on the public debt, and disbursed annually more than $50,000,000 for soldiers' pensions. It has paid $200,000,000 of the public debt, and by refunding the balance at lower rates has reduced the annual interest charge from nearly $151,000,000 to less than $99,000,000. All the industries of the country have revived; labor is in demand; wages have increased, and throughout the entire country there is evidence of a coming prosperity greater than we have ever enjoyed. Upon this record the Republican party asks for the continued confidence and support of the people, and this Convention submits for their approval the following statements of the principle and purpose
which will continue to guide and inspire its efforts:

THE REPUBLICAN POLICY.
First.—We affirm that the work of the last twenty-one years has been such as to command the favor of the nation and that the fruits of the costly victories which we have achieved through immense difficulties should be preserved. That the peace required should be cherished. That the disordered Union, now rapidly restored, should be perpetuated, and that the liberties secured to this generation should be transmitted undiminished to future generations. That the order established and the credit acquired should never be imperiled. That the pensions promised should be paid. That the debt so much reduced should be extinguished by the full payment of every dollar thereof. That the reviving industries should be further promoted, and that the commerce already so great should be steadily encouraged.

A NATION, NOT A CONFEDERACY.
Second.—The Constitution of the United States is the supreme law, and not a mere contract.
Out of the confederated States it made a sovereign nation. Some powers are denied to the nation, while others are retained by the States;
but the boundary between the powers delegated and those reserved is to be determined by National and not by State tribunals.

POPULAR EDUCATION.
Third.—The work of popular education is one of the chief duties of the several States, but it is the duty of the National Government to aid that work to the extent of its constitutional ability.
The intelligence of the nation is but the aggregate of the intelligence in the several States, and the progress of the nation should be determined by the genius of any one State, but by the average genius of all.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.
Fourth.—The Constitution wisely forbids Congress to make any law respecting an establishment of religion, but it is idle to hope that the nation can be protected against the influence of sectarianism, while each State is a free country to its particular domination. We therefore recommend that the Constitution be so amended as to lay some prohibitions upon the legislature of each State, and to forbid the appropriation of the public funds to the support of sectarian schools.

DUTIES OF THE DAY.
Fifth.—We reaffirm the belief avowed in 1876,
that the duties levied for the purpose of revenues should not discriminate as to favor American labor. That no further tariff duties should be levied on goods imported from any foreign country than should be levied on goods imported from any one State, but by the average genius of all.
